1 INTRODUCTION

1.1 WELCOME

Heartland Support Services (the Employer) would like to wish you every success during your employment, whether you recently joined or whether you are an existing employee. It is hoped that your experience of working with us is positive and rewarding.

1.2 PURPOSE OF THE EMPLOYEE HANDBOOK

The Employee Handbook sets out the Employer's rules and regulations, the policies and procedures relating to your employment and also contains information on your benefits and protections. If you require any clarification or additional information, please speak to your manager. All employees are required to comply with the Employee Handbook. Therefore, we ask that you read the content carefully as you may be subject to appropriate disciplinary action (up to and including termination) in the event that you breach the Employee Handbook.

1.3 PRINCIPLE OF EQUALITY

The Employer is committed to providing equal opportunities and the principle of equality in accordance with relevant legislative provisions. We are confident that you share our commitment in implementing these policies.

We will not tolerate any unlawful discriminatory act or attitude in the course of your employment or in your dealings with our clients, suppliers, contractors, members of the public or fellow colleagues. Acts of unlawful discrimination, harassment or victimisation will result in disciplinary action.

1.4 GENERAL

Amendments to this Employee Handbook will be issued from time to time.

This Employee Handbook does not form part of your contract of employment, unless expressly stated otherwise. However, in any event, the Employee Handbook may be considered when interpreting your rights and obligations under your terms of employment.

1.5 ACCESS TO AWARD AND THE NATIONAL EMPLOYMENT STANDARDS

Where relevant, an electronic copy of the award and the National Employment Standards (NES) are available on request.

2 JOINING THE ORGANISATION

2.1 INDUCTION

At the start of your employment, you may be required to complete an induction programme, during which all of our policies and procedures (including, where relevant, those relating to Health and Safety) will be explained and/or provided to you, as necessary. Information relating to these will be given to you at the induction.

2.2 PROBATIONARY PERIOD

The length of your probationary period is set out in your contract of employment. Casual employees are not subject to a probationary period. During this period, your work performance and general suitability will be assessed and, if it is satisfactory, your employment will continue. However, if your work performance is assessed as generally unsuitable, the Employer may either take remedial action (which may include the extension of your probationary period) or terminate your employment at any time prior to confirmation of your employment.

We reserve the right not to apply full capability and disciplinary procedures during your probationary period.

2.3 EMPLOYEE TRAINING

At the commencement of your employment, you will receive any training necessary for your specific job. As your employment progresses, your role may be extended to encompass new activities within the Employer's business. You are expected to participate in any training deemed necessary for you to perform your role at the required standards.

2.4 PERFORMANCE AND REVIEW

The Employer's policy is to monitor your work performance on a continual basis so that we can maximise your strengths, and help you with any development areas.

We have an employee appraisal scheme in place for the purpose of monitoring employee performance levels with a view to maximising the effectiveness of individuals.

2.5 AVAILABILITY

Availabilities are to be provided to the Employer in writing. Any changes to your availabilities must be provided to management in writing. Changes to casual staff availability may result in less hours being offered and changes to permanent availability may only occur by agreement with the Employer.

2.6 JOB FLEXIBILITY

Whenever necessary, you will transfer to alternative duties within the Employer's business. During holiday periods, for example, it may be necessary for you to take over duties normally performed by colleagues. This flexibility is essential for operational efficiency as the type and volume of work is always subject to change.

2.7 MOBILITY

It is a condition of your employment that you are prepared, whenever applicable, to travel to any other of our sites or client sites within a reasonable travelling distance. This mobility is essential to the smooth running of the business.

2.8 CONVICTIONS AND OFFENCES

During your employment, you are required to immediately report to the Employer any convictions or offences with which you may be potentially or have been charged.

3 REMUNERATION AND HOURS

3.1 ADMINISTRATION

i) Overpayments

If you are overpaid for any reason, the total amount of the overpayment will normally be deducted from your next payment. If this would cause hardship, arrangements may be made for the overpayment to be recovered over a longer period.

ii) Overtime

Where you feel that additional hours are outside your normal duties, you must have these hours approved, in writing, by management prior to working these hours. You will not be paid any overtime unless this approval has been provided.

Additional hours worked to complete your ordinary duties, for example, staying back late to correct your own erroneous work, will generally be considered reasonable additional hours and will not ordinarily be paid as overtime.

iii) Payment

Wages are processed fortnightly on Tuesday and will normally arrive in your bank account by Wednesday, depending on your bank. Wages will be paid in arrears.

You will receive a payslip showing how the total amount of your pay has been calculated. It will also show the deductions that have been made and the reasons for them, for example, tax and agreed deductions.

Any pay queries that you may have should be raised with management.

iv) Pay reviews

Pay is reviewed annually in accordance with Fair Pay decisions. However, there is no guarantee of an increase in your pay as a result of any review.

3.2 SUPERANNUATION

Superannuation contributions will be made on your behalf in accordance with legislation.

3.3 TIME RECORDING

You are required to comply strictly with any time recording procedures relating to your work. Any failure to complete time recordings in accordance with management instruction may result in the processing of your pay being delayed until the following pay period.

Deceitful behaviour, including incorrectly completing time recordings, completing time recordings on behalf of another employee, or allowing another employee to complete time recordings on your behalf is strictly prohibited and may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.

3.4 HOURS OF WORK

You may be rostered to work Monday to Sunday. Currently, the usual business hours are 24 Hours a day, but these hours may change from time to time.

3.5 LATENESS/ABSENTEEISM

In the event you are going to be late to work, or following an authorised break, you are required to notify your manager as soon as possible and indicate when you expect to arrive.

If at any time during your working hours, you believe that you are unfit to continue working or need to leave the workplace for any reason, you must approach your manager to discuss the reason for your departure and obtain approval prior to leaving the workplace. Your manager will then advise you of whether any evidence of the reasons for your absence, such as a medical certificate or statutory declaration, is required.

All absences due to illness must be notified in accordance with the sickness reporting procedures set out in this Employee Handbook.

Lateness or unauthorised absence may result in disciplinary action and/or loss of pay.

3.6 BREAKS

Breaks are to be taken when arranged by the Employer. You are required to adhere to the break length as directed by management and be ready to commence work at the end of the break. You are required to notify management immediately if you are struggling to take the break, so that it can be rectified or varied.

Employees are required to take an unpaid meal break of not less than 30 minutes and not more than 60 minutes at your mutually agreed time. Employee's are entitled to a paid 10-minute tea break in each four hours worked at a time to be agreed between the employer and employee. Tea breaks will be counted as time worked.

Where an employee is required by the employer to have a meal with a client or clients as part of the normal work routine or client program, they will be paid for the duration of the meal period at the ordinary rate of pay. This paid meal period is to be counted as time worked.

All employees are required to take a meal break and the Company may provide a roster for when individual meal breaks are to be taken.

All employees are reminded to ensure that they are taking their breaks in accordance with these time periods as excessive unexplained or unscheduled breaks may result in these breaks being reviewed and failure to adhere to this may result in disciplinary action.

It is your responsibility to notify the Employer if you are unable to take your meal break. Only in exceptional circumstances will the Employer allow you to work through your lunch break. Employees are required to seek management's approval in these circumstances, and management will assess this on a case by case basis.

3.7 SHORTAGE OF WORK

If there is a temporary shortage of work for any reason, we will try to maintain your continuity of employment. With your agreement, we may place you on reduced hours, or alternatively, temporary leave. If you agree to be placed on reduced hours, your pay will be reduced according to time actually worked. If you are placed on leave, this will be processed as leave without pay unless you elect to utilise any accrued leave entitlements.

3.8 STAND DOWN

The Employer may send you home where there is no useful work for you to do, such as during:

- breakdown of equipment
- industrial action or
- a cause which the Employer cannot reasonably be held responsible, such as natural disaster.

This list is not exhaustive. Generally, you will not be paid for this time. However, by agreement you may be able to access accrued leave.

4 ANNUAL LEAVE

4.1 ANNUAL HOLIDAYS

You are entitled to accrue annual leave in accordance with the NES, unless otherwise stated in your contract of employment. For the avoidance of doubt, casual employees are not entitled to annual leave. Your annual leave pay will be at your normal basic pay unless shown otherwise in your contract of employment.

It is the Employer's policy to encourage you to take all of your holiday entitlement in the current year.

You must complete the Leave Request Form, and have it signed by management before you make any firm holiday arrangements.

You must give at least four weeks' notice of your intention to take annual leave of a week or more and one week's notice is required for odd single days.

Annual leave dates will normally be allocated on a "first come, first served" basis whilst ensuring that operational efficiency and appropriate staffing levels are maintained throughout the year.

The Employer may experience busy periods during the year and therefore may not be able to accommodate any requests for annual leave during these periods.

Due to the nature of the business, the Employer can only accommodate a limited number of employees taking annual leave at the same time.

4.2 PUBLIC HOLIDAYS

Your entitlement to public holidays is in accordance with the NES, unless otherwise stated in your individual contract of employment. However, due to the nature of the Employer's work, you may be reasonably required to work a public holiday. You will be given advance notice if work on a public holiday is required.

5 PERSONAL LEAVE

5.1 ENTITLEMENTS

You are entitled to be paid for personal leave in accordance with the NES, unless otherwise stated in your contract of employment. For the avoidance of doubt, casual employees are not entitled to paid personal leave.

Paid personal leave accrues over the course of your employment.

Employees (other than casuals) will accrue up to ten days of paid personal/carer's leave for each year of continuous service in accordance with the provisions of the Fair Work Act 2009.

Personal leave accrues, and will be credited to you, progressively throughout the year.

Unused leave will not be paid out on termination.

You are entitled to take personal leave:

- because you are not fit for work due to a personal illness or personal injury affecting you or
- to provide care or support to a member of your immediate family, or a member of your household who requires your care and support because of:
 - a personal illness or injury affecting the member or
 - a sudden or unexpected emergency affecting the member.

If your entitlement to personal leave is exhausted, you may take two days' unpaid carer's leave for each occasion when a member of your immediate family or a member of your household requires your care and support because of:

- a personal illness or personal injury affecting the member or
- a sudden or unexpected emergency affecting the member.

An immediate family member is a:

- spouse
- de facto partner
- child
- parent
- grandparent
- grandchild, sibling or
- child, parent, grandparent, grandchild or sibling of the employee's spouse or de facto partner.

A household member is any person who lives with you.

5.2 NOTIFICATION OF PERSONAL LEAVE

You must notify the Employer by telephone on the first day of incapacity or at the earliest possible opportunity and, in any case, by no later than as soon as possible before your usual start time.

Text messages and e-mails are not an acceptable method of notification. Other than in exceptional circumstances notification should be made personally to your manager. You should try to give an indication of your expected return date and notify the Employer as soon as possible if this date changes. The notification procedures should be followed on each day of absence, unless you are covered by a doctor's medical certificate.

If your incapacity extends to more than seven days you are required to notify us of your continued incapacity once a week thereafter, unless otherwise agreed.

5.3 EVIDENCE

A medical certificate from a registered health practitioner or if not reasonably practical, a statutory declaration is required for all personal leave, unless otherwise agreed by the Employer in specific circumstances.

The Employer retains the discretion to require evidence for carer's leave. The Employer will notify you of this requirement as appropriate.

5.4 RETURN TO WORK

You should notify your manager as soon as you know on which day you will be returning to work, if this differs from a date of return previously notified.

On return to work after any period of personal leave, you may be required to attend a return to work interview to discuss the state of your health and fitness for work. Information arising from such an interview will be treated with strictest confidence. You may be required to provide a certificate from your own doctor stating that you are fit to return to your duties. This will always be required where you have suffered a workplace injury/illness that required medical treatment.

If you have been suffering from an infectious or contagious disease or illness such as rubella or hepatitis, you must not report for work without clearance from your own doctor.

5.5 GENERAL

Submission of a medical certificate may not always be regarded as sufficient justification for accepting your absence. Sickness is just one of a number of reasons for absence and although it is understandable that if you are sick you may need time off, continual or repeated absence through sickness may not be acceptable to the Employer.

In deciding whether your absence is acceptable, the Employer will take into account the reasons for your absences and extent of them, including any absence caused by sickness/injury. We cannot operate with an excessive level of absence as all absence, for whatever reason, reduces the Employer's ability to operate successfully.

The Employer will not tolerate any non-genuine absences, and any such instances will result in disciplinary action being taken. If considered necessary, we reserve the right to ask your permission to contact your doctor and/or for you to be independently medically examined.

6 OTHER LEAVE

6.1 PARENTAL LEAVE

If you or your partner become pregnant or are notified of a match date for adoption purposes, you should notify management at an early stage so that your entitlements and obligations can be explained to you.

Under the NES, employees who will have at least 12 months of continuous service as at the expected date of birth of the child or placement of the child, are entitled to 12 months of unpaid parental leave. Casuals with at least 12 months of service on a regular and systematic basis with a reasonable expectation of continuing work with the Employer on a regular and systematic basis had it not been for the birth or adoption of the child are also entitled to unpaid parental leave. You may request up to an additional 12 months of leave which will only be refused by the Employer on reasonable business grounds after discussion with the Employer, a genuine attempt to reach an agreement about any extension, and consideration of the consequences of refusal for you. Any request to extend unpaid parental leave must be made to the Employer at least four weeks before the end of the available parental leave period.

Other forms of leave, such as annual leave and long service leave, may be taken concurrently with parental leave, but when combined with the unpaid parental leave must not exceed the 12-month period.

When advising of your intention to take unpaid parental leave you must provide the following:

- a medical certificate indicating the expected date of birth of the child, or, where the leave is adoption-related, the expected date of placement
- an expected return date, and
- for a child born or adopted before 1 July 2023 - details of any parental leave your partner intends to take.

You may be entitled to government funded parental leave. For further details, eligibility criteria and to apply for this payment please refer to Services Australia. Please notify management if you require any assistance or document from the Employer in support of an application for government funded paid parental leave.

Child born or placed for adoption before 1 July 2023

You may take up to 30 days of your entitlement to parental leave as unpaid flexible parental leave. Flexible parental leave can be taken in a single continuous period of one or more days or separate periods of one or more days each. Flexible parental leave can be used in the 24-month period from the date of birth or placement of the child, you may not take flexible leave prior to the birth or placement of the child. Taking flexible parental leave will end your entitlement to take a continuous period of unpaid parental leave. Ten weeks' notice is required for either parental leave or flexible parental leave. This can be done in accordance with the Employer's parental leave notification form.

You may take up to eight weeks of unpaid parental leave at the same time as the other parent. Concurrent parental leave can be taken as one continuous period, separate periods of at least two weeks, or shorter separate periods as agreed with the Employer.

Child born or placed for adoption on or after 1 July 2023

You may take up to 100 days of your entitlement to parental leave as unpaid flexible parental leave. Flexible parental leave can be taken in a single continuous period of one or more days or separate periods of one or more days each. Flexible parental leave can be used in the 24-month period from the date of birth or placement of the child, or in the 6 weeks prior to the expected date of birth or placement of the child. Flexible parental leave can be taken before or after a single continuous period of leave, but cannot be used to break up that continuous period. Ten weeks' notice is required for unpaid parental leave, or 4 weeks' notice for flexible parental leave. This can be done in accordance with the Employer's parental leave notification form.

6.2 COMPASSIONATE LEAVE

Full time and part time employees are entitled to two days' paid compassionate leave for each occasion when:

- a member of the employee's immediate family or a member of the employee's household:
 - contracts or develops a personal illness that poses a serious threat to his or her life
 - sustains a personal injury that poses a serious threat to his or her life
 - dies or
- a child is stillborn, where the child would have been a member of the employee's immediate family, or a member of the employee's household, if the child had been born alive or
- the employee, or the employee's current spouse or de facto partner, has a miscarriage.

For casual employees, compassionate leave is unpaid.

6.3 LONG SERVICE LEAVE

You are entitled to long service leave in accordance with the relevant laws of the state in which you are employed. Long service leave should be taken as soon as reasonably practicable after you become entitled to it.

6.4 COMMUNITY SERVICE LEAVE

You are entitled to community service leave in certain circumstances. Community service leave is for eligible community service activities such as SES and volunteer fire fighting. Community service is generally unpaid.

Your entitlement for payment for Jury Duty will depend on the relevant state and federal legislation.

6.5 FAMILY AND DOMESTIC VIOLENCE LEAVE

You are entitled to 10 days of paid family and domestic violence leave every year.

This leave is available to you if you are experiencing violent, threatening or other abusive behaviour by a close relative, member of your household, or a current or former intimate partner that seeks to coerce or control you and causes you harm or to be fearful. The leave can be taken where you require some time to deal with the impact of this and it is impractical to do so outside of your work hours.

For example, you may take this leave to:

- make arrangements for your safety, or the safety of a family member (including relocation)
- attend urgent court hearings, accessing police services

- attending counselling or
- attending related medical, financial or legal appointments.

For the purposes of this leave entitlement, a close relative refers to immediate family including:

- your spouse, de facto partner (including a former spouse or de facto partner), child, parent, grandparent, grandchild or sibling
- a child, parent, grandparent, grandchild or sibling of your spouse or de facto partner or
- a person related to you according to Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander kinship rules.

Your entitlement to family and domestic violence leave will reset to 10 days on the anniversary of your commencement each year.

When you wish to take this leave, you are required to provide the Employer with notice as soon as reasonably practicable and advise of the period (or expected period) of the leave.

The Employer may require you to provide evidence of that would satisfy a reasonable person that the leave will be, or was, taken for the purposes as outlined in this policy. Depending on the circumstances such evidence may include a document issued by the police service, a court or a family violence support service, or a statutory declaration.

The Employer will ensure, as far as reasonably practicable, that steps are taken to safeguard any information disclosed by yourself concerning family and domestic violence leave. This information will be kept confidential to the extent permitted by the law. This policy does not override any legal obligations to disclose information.

6.6 TIME OFF

Circumstances may arise where you need time off for medical/dental appointments, or for other reasons.

Where possible, such appointments should be made outside normal working hours. If this is not possible, time off required for these purposes may be granted at the discretion of management and will normally be without pay.

7 SAFEGUARDS

7.1 RIGHTS OF SEARCH

We have the right to carry out searches of you and your property (including vehicles) whilst you, or your property, are on our premises or during the performance of your duties.

Where practicable, searches will be carried out in the presence of a colleague of your choice who is available on the premises at the time of the search.

You may be asked to remove the contents of your pockets, bags, vehicles, etc.

Whilst you have the right to refuse to be searched, such refusal will constitute failure to follow a reasonable management instruction, which may result in disciplinary action being taken against you.

We reserve the right to call the police at any stage.

7.2 IT AND COMPUTER POLICY

i) Virus protection

In order to prevent the introduction of virus contamination into the software system, the following rules must be observed:

- unauthorised software including public domain software, magazine cover disks/CDs, applications, or internet downloads must not be used and
- all software must be virus checked using standard testing procedures before being used.

ii) Use of computer equipment

In order to control the use of the Employer's computer equipment and reduce the risk of contamination, the following rules will apply:

- the introduction of new software and applications must first of all be checked and authorised by management before general use will be permitted, only authorised employees are permitted access to the Employer's computer equipment
- only software that is used for business applications may be used on the Employer's computer equipment, no software may be brought onto or taken from the Employer's premises without prior authorisation and
- unauthorised copying and/or removal of computer equipment and/or software will result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.

iii) Internet policy

The purpose of this policy is to provide a framework to ensure that the expectations and rules relating to the use of the internet while performing duties for the Employer are clear.

Authorised employees are encouraged to make use of the internet as part of their professional activities. This includes, but is not limited to, accessing the internet on Employer devices. Attention must be paid to ensuring that published information has relevance to normal professional activities before material is released in the Employer's name. Where personal views are expressed, a disclaimer stating that this is the case should be clearly added to all correspondence.

The availability and variety of information on the internet means that it can be used to obtain material reasonably considered to be offensive. The use of the internet to access and/or distribute any kind of offensive material, or material that is not work-related, leaves an individual liable to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

The Employer will not tolerate the use of the internet at work for unofficial or inappropriate purposes, including:

- accessing websites which put the Employer at risk of viruses, compromising copyright or intellectual property rights
- using Employer devices to access the internet for inappropriate or illegal purposes
- using social media in breach of the Employer's social media policy
- accessing the Employer's internet on personal devices
- connecting, posting or downloading any information unrelated to their employment and, in particular, pornographic or other offensive material and
- engaging in computer hacking and other related activities or attempting to disable or compromise the security of information contained on the Employer's computers.

You are reminded that these activities may constitute a criminal offence.

iv) Email

The use of the work email system (work email) is encouraged as its appropriate use facilitates efficiency. Used correctly, it is a facility that is of assistance to the Employer. However, inappropriate use causes a number of problems, including distractions, time wasting and legal claims. The policy sets out the Employer's position on the correct use of work email.

Unauthorised or inappropriate use of work email may result in disciplinary action up to and including summary termination.

Work email is available for communication and matters directly concerned with the legitimate business of the Employer. Employees using work email should:

- comply with Employer communication standards
- only send emails to those to whom they are relevant
- not use email as a substitute for face-to-face communication or telephone contact
- not send inflammatory emails (i.e. emails that are abusive or may be perceived as abusive)
- be aware that hasty messages sent without proper consideration can cause upset, concern or misunderstanding
- if the email is confidential, ensure that the necessary steps are taken to protect confidentiality and
- be aware that offers or contracts transmitted by email are as legally binding on the Employer as those sent on paper.

The Employer will not tolerate the use of work email for unofficial or inappropriate purposes, including:

- any messages that could constitute bullying, harassment (including sexual harassment) or other detriment
- personal use (eg social invitations, personal messages, jokes, cartoons, chain letters or other private matters)
- on-line gambling
- accessing or transmitting pornography
- social media
- transmitting copyright information and/or any software available to the user or
- posting confidential information about other employees, the Employer or its customers or suppliers.

v) Monitoring

The Employer considers any and all data created, stored or transmitted upon the systems (the Systems) as work product and as such, expressly reserves the right to monitor and review any data upon the Systems, including your usage and history, on an intermittent basis without notice.

In addition to this, the Employer has the right to protect its business interests and confidentiality. This includes the right to survey, audit and/or monitor the Systems, including but not limited to:

- monitoring sites users visit on the internet
- monitoring time spent on the internet
- reviewing material downloaded or uploaded and
- reviewing emails sent and received.

Information reports will be available to the Employer which can subsequently be used for matters such as system performance and availability, capacity planning, cost re-distribution and the identification of areas for personal development.

For the avoidance of doubt, the Employer reserve the right to monitor all internet and email activity by you for the purposes of ensuring compliance with the Employer's policies and procedures and for ensuring compliance with the relevant regulatory requirements and you hereby consent to such monitoring. Information acquired through such monitoring may be used as evidence in disciplinary proceedings.

7.3 SOCIAL MEDIA

Whilst social media can be used to strengthen the Employer's brand and overall image of the business, work related issues or materials being placed on social media can adversely affect the Employer, a customer/client, colleague or others.

Social media is a mechanism for communication and sharing, rather than one specific program, activity or object. It is often a website or other electronic application that enable users to create and share content or to participate in social networking.

To protect the mutual interest of all involved, work related matters must not be placed on social media at any time either during or outside of working hours and this includes access via any mobile computer equipment, including mobile phone or other devices unless approved in advance. Work-related usually means that the Employer, its clients, suppliers, employees, contractors or any other associated parties can be identified and be in some way connected back to your relationship with the Employer.

Where you have been authorised in relation to work related matters, you must not bring the Employer, its clients, suppliers, contractors or any other associated parties into disrepute through the content of your usage. While representing the Employer on social media, it is expected that you will exhibit a professional and courteous attitude with clients, your colleagues, suppliers and other members of the public and ensure that you act in the Employer's best interests at all times.

All employees are prohibited from using social media (whether on the Employer's devices or their own personal device) during work time for personal reasons.

Any breach of this policy will be considered serious and may result in disciplinary action.

7.4 PHONES AND OTHER DEVICES

The Employer's phones, computers, laptops and other devices are to be used for business purposes only.

Company phones are for work purposes only. No password, personal information, password, apps, photos are permitted to be downloaded or saved on the company phone at all.

Any unauthorised personal use may be repayable by you and may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination. The Employer reserves the right to request to deduct the appropriate sums from your salary in the event that repayments are not made.

Personal mobile phones and other personal devices should not be used during work time, other than in emergencies and should be stored away or not brought into the workplace. Should you need to be contacted during work time, attempts should be made through the business phone.

7.5 SURVEILLANCE

Surveillance may be conducted in the workplace. If you are a new employee the surveillance may already be in place and could start immediately on commencement of work.

Surveillance may be conducted using:

- internet usage recording devices, such as data capture, web browsing and email history captured on servers, and keystroke recognition
- any form of visual recording devices including all types of camera, such as CCTV cameras
- any form of audio recording devices and
- electronic recording devices in any part of the workplace.

The surveillance may be conducted at any time and any employee may be subject to surveillance. The surveillance may be continuous or intermittent at the Employer's discretion. The Employer may, at their discretion, disclose the surveillance records for any reason that is not barred by privacy legislation.

You may consult with the Employer regarding any concerns about the surveillance. All cameras are visible and recording devices (including cameras) will not be placed in bathrooms or change rooms.

The purpose of the surveillance is to ensure the safety and security of employees, visitors and property. The Employer reserves the right to review and use the CCTV in disciplinary proceedings.

In most circumstances it is inappropriate to secretly record conversations in the workplace. If the Employer becomes aware of any secret recordings, each case will be dealt with on its own merits and action may be taken as appropriate. This may include disciplinary action up to and including termination.

8 STANDARDS

8.1 BEHAVIOUR AT WORK

You should behave with civility towards fellow colleagues, clients and members of the public, whilst at work. Rudeness will not be permitted. Objectionable or insulting behaviour or bad language may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.

You should use your best endeavours to promote the interests of the Employer and shall, during normal working hours, devote the whole of your time, attention and abilities to the Employer and its affairs.

Any involvement in activities which could be construed as being in competition with the Employer is not allowed.

8.2 CUSTOMER SERVICE EXPECTATIONS

You are required to adhere to essential standards of customer service. Specifically:

- attend to customers and your jobs promptly
- introduce yourself by name
- acknowledge customers by name when possible
- greet and thank customers courteously
- listen and respond in an attentive way to customer inquiries
- be polite, friendly and welcoming when communicating with customers, whether it be in person or by any other means
- do not swear or speak crudely in front of customers
- respect and protect customer property and
- protect confidential information relating to customers.

This list is not exhaustive.

8.3 FRIENDS AND FAMILY IN THE WORKPLACE

Friends and family must not be in the workplace, unless approved in advance by the Employer, due to an emergency or for genuine business reasons. It is your responsibility to ensure that friends and family are not in the workplace for longer than necessary.

8.4 CONFLICT OF INTEREST

You may not be involved, employed or engaged in any activity which may be or is likely to create a conflict of interest. The Employer may take whatever action it determines appropriate to avoid the actual or potential conflict of interest. Such action may include transfers, reassignments, changing shifts, or, where the Employer deems such action appropriate, termination of employment.

8.5 WASTAGE

We maintain a policy of "minimum waste", which is essential to the cost-effective and efficient running of the business.

You are able to promote this policy by taking extra care during your normal duties by avoiding unnecessary or extravagant use of services, time, energy, etc. The following points are illustrations of this:

- handle machines, equipment and stock with care
- turn off any unnecessary lighting and heating
- keep doors closed whenever possible
- double side printing, including re-using scrap paper, where possible
- ask for other work if your job has come to a standstill and
- start with the minimum of delay after arriving for work and after breaks.

Further:

- any damage to vehicles, stock or property (including non-statutory safety equipment) that is the result of your carelessness, negligence or deliberate vandalism will render you liable to pay the full or part of the cost of repair or replacement
- any loss to the Employer that is the result of your failure to observe rules, procedures or instruction, or is as a result of your negligent behaviour or your unsatisfactory standards of work, will render you liable to reimburse to us the full or part of the cost of the loss and
- in the event of an at fault accident whilst driving one of the Employer's vehicles you may be required to pay the cost of the insurance excess.

In the event of failure to pay, the Employer reserves the right to request to deduct such costs from your pay.

8.6 DAMAGE TO CLIENT PROPERTY

Due to the nature of your role, you are required to enter into the residence of our Clients. When doing so, you are to be mindful and respectful of all client property and goods within their residence and should refrain from causing any damage where possible.

When you first enter a Client's premises, you should make note of any damaged property or goods which you notice. This is best achieved by utilising the Client Property Checklist and by making a note of any concerns in your shift notes. If you are concerned about an area of the property or any goods which look to be damaged, you should make your Supervising Manager aware of it as soon as possible.

If you believe that photographic evidence is needed to substantiate the damage, please get permission from the Client prior to taking the photograph. If they do not agree to a photograph being taken, then please make mention of this in your notes.

If you damage any client property you should make your Supervising Manager aware of it immediately so that an Incident Report can be made. Any accidental or purposeful damage made will follow the processes outlined in the Wastage Policy above.

If a Client raises a concern for damaged property made by an Employee and none of the above processes have been followed, a formal investigation may need to occur and disciplinary action may be taken.

8.7 COMPANY PROPERTY

During the course of your employment, you may be provided with various equipment in order for you to complete your duties properly and safely, these items may be provided on a daily basis or provided to you for short term or long term use in relation to ongoing work and projects.

When taking any company property home, you are to complete the company property log (for internal recordkeeping purposes). For example, when using company laptops/computers from home, you are to login with the company log in to ensure that confidential information is protected.

Kindly note that all issued company property is to be kept in a good state of repair. If you are issued with any company property, you will be held responsible for any loss or damage caused to the property due to your negligence, recklessness, or carelessness.

You become responsible for these items once they are provided to you, and as such you need to take all reasonable precautions to ensure the equipment are not damaged or lost while in your possession.

You may be required to return company property during any period of absence so we can manage duties in your absence effectively.

8.8 PRINTER USE

The company printer is for work use only and is not permitted for personal use at any time. Where you need to print more than 5 pages, please consult management beforehand.

Employees are expected to adhere to the obligations in relation to the use of company printer.

As such, failure to follow these instructions will result in disciplinary action being taken.

8.9 DRESS AND APPEARANCE

Consistent with the culture of the Employer, you will be expected to present a professional image with regard to your appearance and standards of dress and maintain excellent standards of personal hygiene at all times.

Where uniforms are provided, these must be worn at all times whilst at work and laundered on a regular basis.

Personal protective equipment (PPE) and clothing may be issued for your protection because of the nature of your job and if issued must be worn and used at all appropriate times. Failure to do so could be a contravention of your health and safety responsibilities. Once issued, this PPE is your responsibility.

At the cessation of your employment you must return any uniform and PPE issued to you. Failure to return your uniform and PPE within seven days may result in the cost of the items being deducted from any monies outstanding to you.

If you arrive for work in a manner that does not comply with this policy, your manager will advise you that you are not dressed or groomed appropriately to perform your duties. As a result, you may be sent home to change with any resulting lost time being unpaid.

Any deliberate or persistent breaches of this policy may result in disciplinary action being taken against you.

If you are in any doubt whether any aspect of your appearance or attire is appropriate for your job role you should contact management.

8.10 CONFIDENTIALITY

You agree at all times during and after your Employment with the Employer:

- To refrain from directly or indirectly disclosing to a third party Confidential Information except in the proper course of carrying out your duties
- Not to use the confidential information for any purpose other than for the benefit of the Employer
- To keep confidential all Employer confidential information; and
- To comply with the terms of this Contract unless otherwise required by applicable laws or regulations.

8.11 INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

- All Intellectual Property rights arising from any Works created or developed by you in the course of your employment (whether alone or with others) will belong to the Employer and you agree to immediately disclose to the Employer all such Works.
- You agree that all existing Intellectual Property rights, title and interest in all Works created or developed by you in the course of your employment (whether alone or with others) are vested in the Employer and upon their creation, all such rights will vest in the Employer. You agree to execute all documents and do all acts required to secure any Intellectual Property rights for the Employer.
- For the benefit of the Employer, you consent to any and all acts or omissions (whether occurring before or after this consent is given) in relation to all Works made or to be made by you in the course of your employment which might otherwise infringe your Moral Rights in those Works.

- You warrant that you have consented without coercion or without relying on any representations other than those set out in this contract.

8.12 EMAILS

All employees are to pay attention to emails from management and respond accordingly in a prompt manner. Delay in response or failure to respond leads to unnecessary follow up.

9 GENERAL TERMS

9.1 CHANGES IN PERSONAL DETAILS

You must notify the Employer of any changes in your personal details including but not limited to your name, address, telephone number, emergency contact so that we can maintain accurate records.

9.2 SECONDARY EMPLOYMENT

You are expected to devote the whole of your time and attention during working hours to our business. If you propose taking up additional employment with an Employer or pursuing separate business interests or any similar venture, you must discuss the proposal with your manager in order to establish the likely impact of these activities on both yourself and the Employer. You will be asked to give full details of the proposal and consideration will be given to:

- working hours
- competition, reputation and credibility
- conflict of interest and
- health, safety and welfare.

You will be notified in writing of the Employer's decision. The Employer may refuse to consent to your request. If you work without consent this could result in the termination of your employment.

If you already have any other employment or are considering any additional employment, you must notify the Employer so that we can discuss any implications arising from such employment, i.e. working time, health and safety issues or conflicts of interest.

You may not under any circumstances, whether directly or indirectly, undertake any other duties of whatever kind during your hours of work with the Employer or whilst on Employer premises. Unless approved by the Employer, you may not under any circumstances perform services similar to what are performed for the Employer at your residence or at any other site in exchange for compensation.

9.3 BANKING AND EXPENSES

We will reimburse you for any reasonable expenses incurred where these are authorised by management. You must provide receipts for any expenditure.

You are required to ensure that the use of any Employer card and/or bank accounts is limited to business related expenses and is completed in a safe and secure manner.

9.4 EMPLOYEE'S PROPERTY AND LOST PROPERTY

We do not accept liability for any loss of, or damage to, property that you bring onto the premises. You are requested not to bring personal items of value onto the premises and, in particular, not to leave any items overnight.

10 WHISTLEBLOWER POLICY

10.1 INTRODUCTION

The Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) provides protections for certain types of persons that make a disclosure of Reportable Conduct. This policy has been put in place to ensure employees and other Disclosers can raise concerns regarding any misconduct or improper state of affairs or circumstances of the Employer (including any related entities of the Employer) (the Employer) without being subject to victimisation, harassment or discriminatory treatment.

10.2 WHO DOES THIS POLICY APPLY TO?

The protections in this policy apply to Disclosers, which means anyone who is, or has been, any of the following with respect to the Employer:

- employee
- director
- officer
- contractor (including employees of a contractor)
- supplier (including employees of suppliers)
- associate
- consultant, or
- a relative, dependant, spouse, or dependant of a spouse of any of the above.

The protections in this policy will also apply to any person who has made a disclosure of information relating to the Employer to a legal practitioner for the purpose of obtaining legal advice or legal representation in relation to whistleblowing protection laws.

10.3 REPORTABLE CONDUCT

Reportable Conduct is conduct which involves:

- dishonest behaviour
- fraudulent activity
- unlawful, corrupt or unethical use of company funds or practices
- improper or misleading accounting or financial reporting practices
- behaviour that is oppressive, discriminatory or grossly negligent
- unsafe work practices

- a serious risk to the health and safety of any person at the workplace
- a serious risk to public health, public safety or the environment, or
- behaviour which may cause financial loss to the Employer, damage its reputation or be otherwise detrimental to the Employer's interests.

Personal work-related grievances regarding matters such as an interpersonal conflict with the Discloser and another employee or a business decision relating to an engagement, transfer, promotion, terms and conditions, suspension or termination of the Discloser's employment typically fall outside this policy and should be raised in accordance with the relevant employee grievance policy that applies. An exception to this is where a personal work-related grievance is related to detrimental treatment taken against the Discloser because the Discloser has made (or is suspected of making) a disclosure under this policy, or because the Discloser proposes to (or could) make a disclosure under this policy.

10.4 RESPONSIBILITY TO REPORT

The Employer relies on its employees and Disclosers to maintain its culture of honest and ethical behaviour. To this end, it is expected that any Discloser who becomes aware of Reportable Conduct will make a formal report.

10.5 HOW TO REPORT

Employees of the Employer should initially report the Reportable Conduct to their relevant Senior Manager by telephone or email.

If a Discloser is unable to use the above reporting channel, a report can be made to an Eligible Recipient within the Employer. Eligible Recipients in relation to the Employer are:

- directors
- officers
- senior managers or
- any appointed external auditor or actuary of the Employer.

Reports to an Eligible Recipient may be made in person or by telephone, and the Discloser must inform the Eligible Recipient that they wish to make a report under this policy.

10.6 INVESTIGATION OF REPORTABLE CONDUCT

Upon receiving a report, the relevant Senior Manager/s of the Employer will determine if the report relates to Reportable Conduct and, if so, the report will be investigated as appropriate. The investigation may be conducted internally or via an externally appointed investigator.

The particular investigation process and enquiries will be determined by the nature and substance of the report. All investigations will be conducted in an objective and fair manner, and will be reasonable and appropriate having regard to the nature of the Reportable Conduct and the circumstances.

Where a Discloser wishes to remain anonymous, the Discloser's identity will not be disclosed to the investigator or to any other person. Information that is likely to lead to the identification of the Discloser can be disclosed without the Discloser's consent, provided that:

- the disclosure of the confidential information is reasonably necessary for the purposes of investigating the conduct disclosed by the Discloser, and
- all reasonable steps are taken to reduce the risk that the Discloser will be identified.

Where appropriate, the Eligible Recipient or appointed investigator will provide feedback to the Discloser regarding the investigation's progress and/or outcome. This will be subject to privacy and confidentiality considerations.

10.7 CONFIDENTIAL REPORTING

All reasonable steps will be taken to protect a Discloser's identity following a report of any matter that is considered Reportable Conduct.

Information about a Discloser's identity and information that is likely to lead to the identification of the Discloser may be disclosed in the following circumstances:

- where the information is disclosed to ASIC, APRA or the Australian Federal Police
- where the information is disclosed to a legal practitioner for the purpose of obtaining legal advice in relation to the operation of applicable whistleblowing protection laws, or
- where the Discloser consents.

All information, files and records that form part of an investigation into Reportable Conduct will be retained securely.

10.8 PROTECTIONS AND SUPPORT AVAILABLE TO DISCLOSERS

A Discloser will not be subject to any civil, criminal or disciplinary action for making a report that is covered by this policy, or for participating in any subsequent investigation by the Employer.

The Employer will not tolerate any retaliation against any Discloser. Retaliation occurs where a person causes or threatens detrimental treatment to another person as a result of making a report of Reportable Conduct. Detrimental treatment may include, but is not limited to:

- dismissal
- injury of an employee in their employment
- alteration of an employee's position or duties to their disadvantage
- discrimination between an employee and other employees of the same employer
- harassment or intimidation of a person
- damage to a person's property
- damage to a person's reputation

- damage to a person's business or financial position, or
- any other damage to a person.

Detrimental treatment by any employee will be deemed a serious breach of this policy and may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination of employment. Retaliatory conduct may also attract civil or criminal liability.

The Employer will connect the Discloser with internal and external support providers as necessary.

10.9 AMENDMENT AND AVAILABILITY OF THIS POLICY

This policy, as it is amended from time to time, will be made available to you.

11 CAPABILITY

We recognise that during your employment with us you may find yourself less capable of conducting your duties. This might commonly be because either the job changes over a period of time and you fail to keep pace with the changes, or you change (perhaps because of health reasons) and you can no longer cope with the work. We retain discretion in respect of the capability procedures to take account of your length of service and to vary the procedures accordingly.

11.1 JOB CHANGES/GENERAL CAPABILITY ISSUES

If we have general concerns about your ability to perform your job or if the nature of your job changes, we will try to ensure that you understand the level of performance expected of you and that you receive adequate training and supervision. Concerns regarding your capability will normally first be discussed in an informal manner and you will be given time to improve.

If your standard of performance is still not adequate, you will be warned in writing that a failure to improve and to maintain the performance required could lead to your termination. We will also consider the possibility of a transfer to more suitable work if possible.

If there is still no improvement after a reasonable time and we cannot transfer you to more suitable work, or if your level of performance has a serious or substantial effect on the Employer to its detriment, you will be dismissed with the appropriate notice.

11.2 PERSONAL CIRCUMSTANCE/HEALTH ISSUES

Personal circumstances may arise which do not prevent you from attending work but which prevent you from carrying out your normal duties (eg a lack of dexterity or general ill health). If such a situation arises, we will normally need to have details of your medical diagnosis and prognosis so that we have the benefit of expert advice.

Under normal circumstances, this can be most easily obtained by asking your own doctor for a medical report. Your permission is needed before we can obtain such a report and we will expect you to co-operate in this matter should the need arise. When we have obtained as much information as possible regarding your condition and after consultation with you, a decision will be made about your future employment with the Employer in your current role or, where circumstances permit, in a more suitable role.

There may also be personal circumstances which prevent you from attending work, either for a prolonged period or for frequent short absences. Under these circumstances, we will need to know when we can expect your attendance record to reach an acceptable level. This may again mean asking your own doctor for a medical report or by making whatever investigations are appropriate in the circumstances. When we have obtained as much information as possible regarding your condition, and after consultation with you, a decision will be made about your future employment with the Employer in your current role or, where circumstances permit, in a more suitable role.

12 DISCIPLINARY

12.1 INTRODUCTION

This policy sets standards of performance and behaviour expected by the Employer, together with the procedure to be followed in the event of disciplinary issues. The policy aims to help promote fairness and order in the treatment of individuals. It is the Employer's aim that the rules and procedures should emphasise and encourage improvement in the conduct of individuals where they are failing to meet the required standards, and not be seen merely as a means of punishment. We reserve the right to amend these rules and procedures where appropriate.

Every effort will be made to ensure that any action taken under this procedure is fair, with you being given the opportunity to state your case.

The following rules and procedures should ensure that:

- the correct procedure is used when requiring you to attend a disciplinary hearing
- you are fully aware of the standards of performance, action and behaviour required of you
- disciplinary action, where necessary, is taken speedily and in a fair, uniform and consistent manner
- you will only be disciplined after careful investigation of the facts and the opportunity to present your side of the case
- at all disciplinary hearings, rather than investigatory meetings, you have the right to be accompanied by a support person at all stages of the formal disciplinary process
- you will not normally be dismissed for a first breach of discipline, except in the case of serious misconduct and
- if you are disciplined, you will receive an explanation of the penalty imposed.

On some occasions temporary suspension on contractual pay may be necessary in order that an uninterrupted investigation can take place. This should not be regarded as disciplinary action or a penalty of any kind.

12.2 DISCIPLINARY RULES

It is not practicable to specify all disciplinary rules or offences that may result in disciplinary action, as they may vary depending on the nature of the work.

In addition to the specific examples of misconduct and serious misconduct shown in this policy, a breach of other specific conditions, procedures and practices set out elsewhere in this Employee Handbook or that have otherwise been made known to you, will also result in this procedure being used to deal with such matters.

12.3 RULES COVERING MISCONDUCT

You will be liable to disciplinary action if you are found to have acted in any of the following ways:

- failure to abide by the Employer's health and safety policies and procedures and your general health and safety responsibilities
- actions which could threaten the health and safety of yourself, your colleagues or others
- persistent absenteeism and/or lateness
- unsatisfactory standards or output of work
- rudeness towards customers/clients, members of the public or your colleagues, objectionable or insulting behaviour, harassment, bullying or bad language
- failure to devote the whole of your time, attention and abilities to our business and its affairs during your normal working hours
- unauthorised use of email, internet and/or social media
- failure to carry out all reasonable instructions or follow our rules and procedures
- use of the Employer's vehicles without approval or the private use of our commercial vehicles without authorisation
- failure to report any incident whilst driving the Employer's vehicles, whether or not personal injury or vehicle damage occurs
- if your work involves driving, failure to report immediately any type of driving conviction, or any summons which may lead to your conviction
- carrying unauthorised goods or passengers in the Employer's commercial vehicles or the use of the Employer's vehicles for personal gain
- loss of driving licence where driving on public roads forms an essential part of the duties of the role
- unauthorised use or negligent damage or loss of our property and
- failure to report immediately any damage to property or premises caused by you.

This list is not exhaustive.

12.4 SERIOUS MISCONDUCT

Occurrences of serious misconduct are significant because the penalty may be termination without notice, even without any previous warning being issued. It is not possible to provide an exhaustive list of examples of serious misconduct. However, any behaviour or negligence resulting in a fundamental breach of your contractual terms that irrevocably destroys the trust and confidence necessary to continue the employment relationship will constitute serious misconduct. Examples of offences that will normally be considered to be serious misconduct include serious instances of:

- theft or fraud
- any conduct that may constitute a criminal offence
- physical violence or bullying

- sexual harassment
- deliberate damage to property
- deliberate acts of unlawful discrimination or harassment
- possession, or being under the influence, of illegal drugs at work and
- breach of the Employer's health and safety policies and procedures and your general health and safety responsibilities or any actions that endangers the lives of, or may cause serious injury to, employees or any other person.

12.5 DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURE

Disciplinary action taken against you may be based on the nature of the conduct and behaviour. Outcomes of the disciplinary procedure will vary depending on factors including, but not limited to, any history of misconduct, the severity of the misconduct, your length of service and any mitigating factors. The outcomes include:

- formal verbal warning
- written warning
- final written warning
- a reduction in classification, position and/or remuneration or
- termination (including termination without notice in the event of serious misconduct).

There may also be occasions where disciplinary action warrants suspension.

Ordinarily a disciplinary outcome will be provided after:

- a meeting with you has taken place to discuss the issues allegedly involved (and at which you are entitled to have a support person)
- you have had the opportunity to respond to the allegations and
- we have considered your response and any mitigating factors.

We retain discretion in respect of the disciplinary procedures to take account of your length of service and the severity of the misconduct to vary the procedures accordingly. If you have a short amount of service, you may not be in receipt of any warnings before termination.

Where a disciplinary outcome has been provided, any future or further breach of the rules in relation to similar or entirely independent matters of misconduct may be subject to further disciplinary action and allow the continuation of the disciplinary process through to termination if the warnings do not change behaviour.

12.6 GENERAL NOTES

If you are in a supervisory or managerial position then demotion to a lower status at the appropriate rate of pay may be considered as an alternative to termination, except in cases of serious misconduct.

Serious misconduct offences will result in termination without notice.

13 BULLYING AND HARASSMENT

13.1 INTRODUCTION

The Employer is committed to the provision of a fair, healthy and safe workplace in which everyone is treated with dignity and respect and in which no individual or group feels bullied, threatened or intimidated.

Bullying or harassment in any form is unacceptable behaviour and will not be permitted or condoned.

We recognise that bullying and harassment can exist in the workplace, as well as outside, and that this can seriously affect workers' working lives by detracting from a productive working environment and can impact on the health, confidence, morale and performance of those affected by it, including anyone who witnesses or has knowledge of the unwanted or unacceptable behaviour.

13.2 HARASSMENT

The intention of these procedures are to inform workers of the type of behaviour that is unacceptable and to provide procedural guidance.

We recognise that we have a duty to implement this policy and all workers are expected to comply with it.

Harassment is any unwanted physical, verbal or non-verbal conduct based on grounds of age, disability, gender identity, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy or maternity, race, religion or belief, sex or sexual orientation which affects the dignity of anyone at work or creates an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment.

Sexual harassment is any unwelcome sexual advance, an unwelcome request for sexual favours or any unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature. Such conduct includes making a statement of a sexual nature to a person, or in the presence of a person, whether the statement is made orally or in writing. Harassment on the grounds of sex is any unwelcome conduct of a seriously demeaning nature and includes making a statement to a person, or in the presence of a person, whether the statement is made orally or in writing.

A single incident of unwanted or offensive behaviour can amount to harassment.

Harassment can take many forms and individuals may not always realise that their behaviour constitutes harassment. Examples of harassment include:

- insensitive jokes and pranks including inappropriate comments based on sex
- lewd or abusive comments about appearance
- asking intrusive personal questions based on a person's sex
- deliberate exclusion from conversations
- displaying abusive or offensive writing or material
- unwelcome sexual advance, or an unwelcome request for sexual favours
- unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature
- unwelcome touching and

- abusive, threatening or insulting words or behaviour.

These examples are not exhaustive and disciplinary action at the appropriate level will be taken against employees committing any form of harassment. Appropriate action in relation to an employee will include disciplinary action in accordance with the Employer's disciplinary and disciplinary termination procedure. For other workers, appropriate action may include termination of their engagement with the Employer.

13.3 BULLYING

Bullying is repeated, offensive, abusive, intimidating, insulting or unreasonable behaviour directed towards an individual or a group, which makes the recipient(s) feel threatened, humiliated or vulnerable. Note single incidents of bullying will not be tolerated.

Bullying can occur in the workplace and outside of the workplace at events connected to the workplace, such as social functions or business trips.

Bullying can be a form of harassment and can cause an individual to suffer negative physical and mental effects.

Bullying can take the form of physical, verbal and non-verbal conduct. As with harassment, there are many examples of bullying, which can include:

- abusive, insulting or offensive language or comments
- unjustified criticism or complaints
- physical or emotional threats
- deliberate exclusion from workplace activities
- the spreading of misinformation or malicious rumours and
- the denial of access to information, supervision or resources such that it has a detrimental impact on the individual or group.

These examples are not exhaustive and disciplinary action at the appropriate level will be taken against employees committing any form of bullying. Appropriate action in relation to an employee will include disciplinary action in accordance with the Employer's disciplinary and disciplinary termination procedure. For other workers, appropriate action may include termination of their engagement with the Employer.

What is not bullying?

Reasonable management actions carried out in a reasonable manner is not bullying, e.g.:

- Setting reasonable performance goals, standards and deadlines
- Deciding not to select an employee for promotion
- Informing an employee about unsatisfactory work performance
- Informing an employee about inappropriate behaviour in an objective / confidential way
- Making organisational changes or restructuring with consultation.

- Conflict between people at work such as differences of opinions
- Poor management practices
- Dissatisfaction or grievances with organisational decisions.

Discrimination:

Discrimination is when a person is treated less favourably to other people because of a particular trait that they possess or their personal attributes. It is unlawful to discriminate against someone on the grounds of:

- Sex;
- Marital or relationship status;
- Pregnancy;
- Family responsibilities;
- Race;
- Disability;
- Sexual preference or orientation;
- Gender identity or intersex status;
- Age;
- Physical appearance;
- Political opinion;
- Employment status;
- Raising an OHS issue to management or government authority such as WorkSafe.

Victimisation:

Victimisation is subjecting, or threatening to subject, someone to something detrimental because they have asserted their rights under equal opportunity law, occupational health and safety law, made a complaint, helped someone else to make a complaint, or refused to do something because it would be discrimination, sexual harassment or victimisation.

Gendered Violence:

Work-related gendered violence is any behaviour, directed at any person, or that affects a person, because of their sex, gender or sexual orientation, or because they do not adhere to socially prescribed gender roles, that creates a risk to health and safety.

This includes violence targeted directly at someone specifically because, for example:

- they are a woman
- they identify as LGBTIQ+
- they don't follow socially prescribed gender roles and stereotypes

Work-related gendered violence can also be experienced indirectly. A person may experience gendered violence not targeted specifically at them (such as overhearing a conversation that affects them) or witness violence directed at someone else.

Occupational Violence and Aggression:

Occupational violence and aggression is when a person is abused, threatened or assaulted in a situation related to their work. Examples of occupational violence include yelling, swearing and name calling, standing over someone, biting, spitting, scratching, hitting, kicking; pushing, shoving, tripping, grabbing; throwing objects; verbal threats; threatening someone with a weapon, sexual assault.

Gendered Violence:

Work-related gendered violence is any behaviour, directed at any person, or that affects a person, because of their sex, gender or sexual orientation, or because they do not adhere to socially prescribed gender roles, that creates a risk to health and safety.

This includes violence targeted directly at someone specifically because, for example:

- they are a woman
- they identify as LGBTIQ+
- they don't follow socially prescribed gender roles and stereotypes

Work-related gendered violence can also be experienced indirectly. A person may experience gendered violence not targeted specifically at them (such as overhearing a conversation that affects them) or witness violence directed at someone else.

13.4 REASONABLE MANAGEMENT ACTION TAKEN IN A REASONABLE WAY

It is reasonable for managers and supervisors to allocate work and to give fair and reasonable feedback on a worker's performance. These actions are not considered to be workplace bullying or harassment if they are carried out lawfully and in a reasonable manner, taking the particular circumstances into account.

Examples of reasonable management action can include but are not limited to:

- setting reasonable performance goals, standards and deadlines
- rostering and allocating working hours where the requirements are reasonable
- transferring a worker for operational reasons
- deciding not to select a worker for promotion where a reasonable process is followed
- informing a worker of their unsatisfactory work performance
- meeting with a worker to discuss performance and/or conduct
- informing a worker of their unreasonable or inappropriate behaviour in an objective and confidential way
- implementing organisational changes or restructuring and
- taking disciplinary action including suspension or termination of employment.

13.5 BULLYING AND HARASSMENT COMPLAINT PROCEDURES

What can I do to report if I believe I am being bullied, discriminated against, victimised or experienced gendered violence, occupational violence or aggression?

Below is a summary of the steps that can be taken to address individual concerns and who to contact:

- If you can, try to resolve the problem yourself with the person(s) involved as soon as possible.
- If you're unsure of how to handle the problem yourself, you can report your complaint verbally by talking to your <manager/supervisor> or in writing by completing a < Click on Grievance Lodgement form> and giving it to your <manager/supervisor>.
- If your complaint is about your <manager/supervisor> you can report your complaint directly to the <General Manager>.

If you witness another employee being bullied, discriminated against, harassed or victimised bring it to the attention of your <manager/supervisor>.

If you do make a complaint about a breach of, bullying, discrimination,, gendered violence, or victimisation you are responsible for ensuring that you:

- Make the complaint honestly and in good faith.
- Provide all the facts relevant to the complaint.
- Co-operate with the investigation and resolution processes

Complaints that are not true and made to cause harm or distress are known as vexatious or malicious complaints. If a report of inappropriate behaviour is found to be vexatious or malicious, disciplinary action will be considered against the person who made the report.

If a complaint of a breach of, bullying, discrimination, or victimisation has been made about you, you are responsible for ensuring that you:

- Cooperate with the investigation and resolution processes and maintain confidentiality.
- Provide a written or verbal response to the complaint which has been made.
- Provide all relevant facts to the person conducting the investigation.

Confidentiality

All persons associated with the Complaints process (including complainants, respondents, witnesses, and management representative) should maintain confidentiality and only discuss the grievance with those who have responsibility for dealing with the grievance. Any breach of confidentiality by a person involved in the grievance process may be subject to appropriate disciplinary action.

Management responsibility

If an employee brings an allegation of a breach of, bullying, discrimination, occupational violence, aggression, or victimisation to your attention:

Do Not

- Ignore the complaint.
- Tell the employee making the complaint to sort it out themselves.
- Make a judgement about whether the complaint is true or not.
- Say that the employee should put up with the behaviour, discrimination, or victimisation.

Do

- Behave consistently with the expected workplace behaviours.
- Resolve the complaint as quickly as possible.
- Be sympathetic, sensitive and serious; the complaint is serious to the person making it.
- Enquire into the matter within <2 working days> and attempt to resolve it as soon as possible.

Manager's action steps

1. Notify the <General Manager> immediately.
2. Document the complaint using <form>.
3. In discussion with the <General Manager> or their delegate, determine who should investigate, and if possible, mediate the complaint.

Investigation and mediation

- Investigation of a complaint relating to a breach of social media policy bullying, discrimination, occupational violence and aggression, harassment or victimisation must commence within <2 working days> of receipt of the complaint.
- With the <General Manager> or their delegate, determine who the appropriate person to investigate the complaint is.
- The investigator must be someone who is impartial, and who has been trained to conduct investigations. This person may need to be sourced from outside the organisation.
- Mediation may be a consideration in resolving a bullying, discrimination, harassment, occupational violence and aggression, or victimisation complaint. This form of dispute resolution is appropriate only if the person making the complaint agrees.

Conduct of Investigation

- The principles of natural justice and procedural fairness will apply to an investigation. This means that the employee will be informed of the allegations against them and will be given an opportunity to provide a response to the allegations.
- The investigation will typically involve interviewing or gathering information from the person making the complaint, the person that is the subject of the complaint and any relevant witnesses. Any relevant documentation will also be considered.
- An individual who is interviewed as part of an investigation may have a support person accompany them. The purpose of a support person is not to advocate for an individual, but to provide emotional support. A support person cannot be another witness to the allegations.

Outcome

On the basis of all the information gathered, the investigator will determine whether an allegation is substantiated or unsubstantiated. An unsubstantiated allegation means there is insufficient evidence or information to prove the allegation.

The complainant/s and the respondent/s of the investigation will be advised of the finding/s in writing and, where appropriate, actions arising from the investigation. The findings will advise whether the allegations are substantiated or unsubstantiated. Any disciplinary action arising out of the investigation that has been taken against a respondent will remain confidential and will not be shared.

Where an allegation is unsubstantiated, appropriate action may be proposed to facilitate positive and professional relationships in the workplace, such as a facilitated discussion or temporary changes to work practices.

In situations where a breach of confidentiality, social media policy, bullying, discrimination, harassment, gendered violence, sexual harassment, occupational violence and aggression, vexatious, or victimisation complaints are substantiated, management may take the following actions:

- Require an apology from the respondent
- Make changes to work practices
- Undertake disciplinary action including termination of employment
- Require employees to participate in training
- Place notes in personnel file
- Require removal of information contained on any social media platform that breaches policy
- Restrict access to social media
- Any other action deemed fair and reasonable.

13.6 GENERAL NOTES

If the report concludes that the allegation is well founded, appropriate action will be taken against the bully or harasser.

If you bring a complaint of bullying or harassment you will not be victimised for having brought the complaint. However, if the report concludes that the complaint is both untrue and has been brought with malicious intent, appropriate action will be taken against you. Appropriate action in relation to an employee will include disciplinary action in accordance with the Employer's disciplinary and disciplinary termination procedure. For other workers, appropriate action may include termination of their engagement with the Employer.

14 SEXUAL HARASSMENT

14.1 INTRODUCTION

The Employer is committed to the provision of a fair, healthy and safe workplace in which everyone is treated with dignity and respect and in which no individual or group feels offended, threatened or intimidated. Everyone in the workplace has the right to a workplace that is safe and free from sexual harassment.

Sexual harassment is a legally recognised form of sex discrimination. Sexual harassment and sex discrimination are both unlawful under the Sex Discrimination Act and Fair Work Act.

Sexual harassment in any form will not be tolerated. We recognise that sexual harassment can seriously affect workers' working lives by detracting from a productive working environment and can seriously impact on the health, confidence, morale and performance of those affected by it, including anyone who witnesses or has knowledge of the unwanted or unacceptable behaviour. Any person who is subject to sexual harassment in the workplace is encouraged to speak up and follow sexual harassment complaints procedure outlined in this policy.

14.2 SEXUAL HARASSMENT

Sexual harassment is a specific and serious form of harassment. It is unwelcome sexual behaviour, which could be expected to make a person feel offended, humiliated or intimidated. Sexual harassment can be physical, spoken or written. It can include:

- inappropriate physical contact, such as unwelcome touching
- inappropriate staring or leering
- making a suggestive comment or joke
- sharing sexually explicit pictures or posters, sending sexually explicit emails or messages
- making an unwanted invitation to go out on a date
- a request for sex
- intrusive questioning about a person's private life or body
- unnecessary familiarity, such as deliberately brushing up against a person
- an insult or a taunt of a sexual nature
- harassment on the grounds of sex
- behaviour that may also be considered to be an offence under criminal law, such as physical assault, indecent exposure, sexual assault, stalking or obscene communications.

Sexual harassment in connection with the workplace can be committed by "all workers", including employees, contractors, subcontractors, outworkers, apprentices, trainees, students and volunteers as well as prospective workers and third parties such as clients and customers.

Sexual harassment does not necessarily have to take place in the workplace to be unlawful. Sexual harassment in the course of employment can occur during work hours, at work-related events such as training or social events, between people sharing the same workplace, or even between colleagues outside of work.

Behaviour that may be considered sexual harassment in one situation may not be in others, for example flirtation or love and affection between two consenting individuals which is mutual, consensual or reciprocated is not sexual harassment.

A single incident is enough to constitute sexual harassment – it doesn't have to be repeated. If substantiated, sexual harassment is considered serious misconduct under the Fair Work Act and can amount to a valid reason for termination without notice.

Sexual harassment includes behaviour which could result in a workplace being offensive, intimidating or humiliating to a person because of their gender, even if the behaviour is not directed at a single person eg where employees engage in sexist conversation.

Manager and supervisors have an additional responsibility to ensure the safety and welfare of their employees. This includes modelling appropriate standards of behaviour, taking steps to educate and make staff aware of their obligations under this policy and the law and responding quickly and appropriately to any form of sexual harassment.

The Employer takes sexual harassment seriously including the duty to eliminate discriminatory behaviour in the workplace. This policy requires all staff (including apprentices and trainees), volunteers as well as contractors to ensure their behaviour is respectful and appropriate. These examples are not exhaustive and disciplinary action up to and including termination of employment, will be taken against workers committing any form of sexual harassment. Appropriate action in relation to an employee will include disciplinary action in accordance with the Employer's disciplinary and disciplinary termination procedure. For other workers, appropriate action may include termination of their engagement with the Employer.

14.3 SEXUAL HARASSMENT COMPLAINT PROCEDURES

What can I do to report if I believe I am being Sexual Harassment?

Below is a summary of the steps that can be taken to address individual concerns and who to contact:

- If you can, try to resolve the problem yourself with the person(s) involved as soon as possible.
- If you're unsure of how to handle the problem yourself, you can report your complaint verbally by talking to your <manager/supervisor> or in writing by completing a < Click on Grievance Lodgement form> and giving it to your <manager/supervisor>.
- If your complaint is about your <manager/supervisor> you can report your complaint directly to the <General Manager>.

If you witness another employee being harassment bring it to the attention of your <manager/supervisor>.

If you do make a complaint about a breach of harassment you are responsible for ensuring that you:

- Make the complaint honestly and in good faith.
- Provide all the facts relevant to the complaint.
- Co-operate with the investigation and resolution processes

Complaints that are not true and made to cause harm or distress are known as vexatious or malicious complaints. If a report of inappropriate behaviour is found to be vexatious or malicious, disciplinary action will be considered against the person who made the report.

If a complaint of a breach of, bullying, discrimination, or victimisation has been made about you, you are responsible for ensuring that you:

- Cooperate with the investigation and resolution processes and maintain confidentiality.

- Provide a written or verbal response to the complaint which has been made.
- Provide all relevant facts to the person conducting the investigation.

Confidentiality

All persons associated with the Complaints process (including complainants, respondents, witnesses, and management representative) should maintain confidentiality and only discuss the grievance with those who have responsibility for dealing with the grievance. Any breach of confidentiality by a person involved in the grievance process may be subject to appropriate disciplinary action.

Management responsibility

If an employee brings an allegation of a breach of, bullying, discrimination, occupational violence, aggression, or victimisation to your attention:

Do Not

- Ignore the complaint.
- Tell the employee making the complaint to sort it out themselves.
- Make a judgement about whether the complaint is true or not.
- Say that the employee should put up with the behaviour, discrimination, or victimisation.

Do

- Behave consistently with the expected workplace behaviours.
- Resolve the complaint as quickly as possible.
- Be sympathetic, sensitive and serious; the complaint is serious to the person making it.
- Enquire into the matter within <2 working days> and attempt to resolve it as soon as possible.

Manager's action steps

4. Notify the <General Manager> immediately.
5. Document the complaint using <form>.
6. In discussion with the <General Manager> or their delegate, determine who should investigate, and if possible, mediate the complaint.

Investigation and mediation

- Investigation of a complaint relating to a breach of social media policy bullying, discrimination, occupational violence and aggression, harassment or victimisation must commence within <2 working days> of receipt of the complaint.
- With the <General Manager> or their delegate, determine who the appropriate person to investigate the complaint is.
- The investigator must be someone who is impartial, and who has been trained to conduct investigations. This person may need to be sourced from outside the organisation.
- Mediation may be a consideration in resolving a harassment, and complaint. This form of dispute resolution is appropriate only if the person making the complaint agrees.

Conduct of Investigation

- The principles of natural justice and procedural fairness will apply to an investigation. This means that the employee will be informed of the allegations against them and will be given an opportunity to provide a response to the allegations.
- The investigation will typically involve interviewing or gathering information from the person making the complaint, the person that is the subject of the complaint and any relevant witnesses. Any relevant documentation will also be considered.

- An individual who is interviewed as part of an investigation may have a support person accompany them. The purpose of a support person is not to advocate for an individual, but to provide emotional support. A support person cannot be another witness to the allegations.

Outcome

On the basis of all the information gathered, the investigator will determine whether an allegation is substantiated or unsubstantiated. An unsubstantiated allegation means there is insufficient evidence or information to prove the allegation.

The complainant/s and the respondent/s of the investigation will be advised of the finding/s in writing and, where appropriate, actions arising from the investigation. The findings will advise whether the allegations are substantiated or unsubstantiated. Any disciplinary action arising out of the investigation that has been taken against a respondent will remain confidential and will not be shared.

Where an allegation is unsubstantiated, appropriate action may be proposed to facilitate positive and professional relationships in the workplace, such as a facilitated discussion or temporary changes to work practices.

In situations where a breach of confidentiality, social media policy, bullying, discrimination, harassment, gendered violence, sexual harassment, occupational violence and aggression, vexatious, or victimisation complaints are substantiated, management may take the following actions:

- Require an apology from the respondent
- Make changes to work practices
- Undertake disciplinary action including termination of employment
- Require employees to participate in training
- Place notes in personnel file
- Require removal of information contained on any social media platform that breaches policy
- Restrict access to social media
- Any other action deemed fair and reasonable.

14.4 GENERAL NOTES

If the report concludes that the allegation is well founded, appropriate action will be taken against the harasser.

If you bring a complaint of sexual harassment, you will not be victimised for having brought the complaint. However, if the report concludes that the complaint is both untrue and has been brought with malicious intent, appropriate action will be taken against you. Appropriate action in relation to an employee will include disciplinary action in accordance with the Employer's disciplinary and disciplinary termination procedure. For other workers, appropriate action may include termination of their engagement with the Employer.

15 GRIEVANCE

It is important that if you feel dissatisfied with any matter relating to your employment you should have an effective means by which to raise such a grievance and, where appropriate, have it resolved.

Nothing in this procedure is intended to prevent you from informally raising with your manager any matter you may wish to mention. Informal discussion can frequently solve problems without the need for a written record. However, if you wish to raise a formal grievance you should normally do so in writing from the outset by completing the Grievance Lodgement Form.

If you feel aggrieved at any matter relating to your work (except harassment, for which there is a separate procedure), you should first raise the matter with your manager, explaining fully the nature and extent of your grievance. You will then be invited to a meeting at a reasonable time and location at which your grievance will be investigated fully. You must take all reasonable steps to attend this meeting. You will be notified of the decision, in writing, normally within ten working days of the meeting.

16 PRIVACY

While the operation of the Privacy Act does not apply to the Employer in regard to any acts which directly relate to:

- the employment relationship between the Employer and the individual and
- an employee record held by the Employer,

the Employer treats the handling of your personal information very seriously. Accordingly, the purpose of this policy is to ensure the protection of your privacy in relation to the handling of your personal information.

16.1 COLLECTION OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

Personal information may be collected during the recruiting process and throughout your employment with the Employer. This personal information may be disclosed to other areas within the business for administrative purposes and for the progression of your application. All confidential information will be used for legitimate purposes in accordance with relevant legislation.

Personal information includes information relating to:

- the engagement, training, disciplining or resignation of the employee
- termination of the employment of the employee
- terms and conditions of employment of the employee
- employee's personal and emergency contact details
- employee's performance or conduct
- employee's hours of employment
- employee's salary or wages
- employee's membership of a professional or trade association
- employee's trade union membership
- employee's recreation, long service, sick, personal, maternity, paternity or other leave and
- employee's taxation, banking or superannuation affairs.

All reasonable attempts will be made to keep this information relevant, complete and current. You must ensure that any personal information provided is accurate and current.

16.2 YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES

In light of the above objective, every employee is responsible for the appropriate handling of such information and to prevent unlawful disclosure.

If you have access to this information or any such personal information belonging to another employee or a client of the Employer, you must ensure that you maintain the confidence of any confidential information that you have access to, or become aware of, during the course of your employment and will prevent its unauthorised disclosure or use by any other person.

You will not use the confidential information for any purpose other than for the relevant and related Employer processes during or after your employment. Any action in breach of this policy may result in disciplinary action being taken.

17 EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES AND ANTI-DISCRIMINATION

17.1 STATEMENT OF POLICY

We recognise that discrimination is unacceptable and, although equality of opportunity has been a long-standing feature of our practices and procedure, we have made the decision to adopt a formal equal opportunities policy.

Breaches of the policy will lead to disciplinary proceedings up to and including termination.

The aim of the policy is to ensure that no job applicant or employee is discriminated against either directly or indirectly on the grounds of age, disability, gender identity, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy or maternity, breastfeeding, race, religion or belief, sexual orientation or intersex status.

The policy will be communicated to all private contractors reminding them of their responsibilities in respect of equality of opportunity.

We will maintain a neutral workplace in which no employee or other worker feels under threat or intimidated.

17.2 RECRUITMENT AND SELECTION

The recruitment and selection process is crucially important to any equal opportunities policy. We will endeavour through appropriate training to ensure that employees making selection and recruitment decisions will not discriminate, whether consciously or subconsciously, in making these decisions.

Promotion and advancement will be made on merit and all decisions relating to this will be made within the overall framework and principles of this policy.

We will adopt a consistent, non-discriminatory approach to the advertising of vacancies. We will not confine our recruitment to areas or media sources which provide only, or mainly, applicants of a particular group. All applicants who apply for jobs with us will receive fair treatment and will be considered solely on their ability to do the job.

All employees involved in the recruitment process will periodically review their selection criteria to ensure that they are related to the job requirements and do not unlawfully discriminate.

Short listing and interviewing will be carried out by more than one person where possible.

Interview questions will be related to the requirements of the job and will not be of a discriminatory nature.

Selection decisions will not be influenced by any perceived prejudices of other staff. All promotions will be in line with this policy.

17.3 COMPLAINTS PROCEDURE

We take allegations of discrimination seriously. If you believe that you have been the victim of discrimination, we encourage you to follow the grievance procedures outlined in this Handbook.

18 MOTOR VEHICLES

18.1 GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

You may be required to use a motor vehicle to enable you to efficiently perform your duties.

Where travelling in the course of duties, the motor vehicle is considered to be a workplace and the Employer recognises it has health and safety obligations in respect of this. The Employer will ensure that company motor vehicles are registered and insured in accordance with the relevant legislation.

18.2 USING A PRIVATE VEHICLE FOR EMPLOYER PURPOSES

When using your own vehicle in the performance of your duties, you are responsible for ensuring the vehicle is roadworthy and in a presentable condition. You will be responsible to register, insure (full comprehensive insurance) and service any private motor vehicles used in the performance of your duties.

You must ensure that whilst driving your motor vehicle to perform your duties, it is clean, free of rubbish and personal items at all times, and in a safe and good working order.

You are responsible for washing the motor vehicle, and for ensuring that appropriate levels of oil, water and tyre pressure are maintained.

18.3 FIXTURES, FITTINGS AND MODIFICATIONS

No fixtures such as aerials, roof racks, towing apparatus, or stickers may be attached to any Employer vehicles without prior written permission.

No change or alterations may be made to the manufacturer's mechanical or structural specification of the vehicle.

18.4 CLEANING AND MAINTENANCE

When you drive one of the Employer's vehicles, it is your responsibility to ensure that it is kept clean and tidy and free from rubbish and personal items at all times and that it is returned to the Employer in that condition after use. Smoking in Employer vehicles is not permitted.

Any maintenance or repair work, or replacement of parts, including tyres, must be approved in advance by the Employer, and reimbursement will only be made against production of an authorisation. When requested by the Employer you must ensure servicing is carried out. Full details of the work required and the cost involved must be given.

Before you use one of the Employer's vehicles, and on its return, you are responsible for ensuring that the oil and water levels, battery and brake fluid and tyre pressures are maintained and that the tread of all tyres conforms to the minimum legal requirements.

The Employer reserves the right to request to deduct the cost of the valet from your pay where you fail to adequately clean the vehicle.

18.5 FUEL

Unless contrary arrangements exist in writing, we will only reimburse you for fuel and oil used on Employer business. Claims must be submitted on a report sheet, signed by you and accompanied by receipts. All receipts should be itemised, and a deduction shown for that part of the fuel attributable to private use.

You must ensure that you adhere to all business requirements for fuel related purchases which may include, but is not limited to, specific locations for purchases, type of products that can be purchased and spend limits on purchases.

18.6 FINES

We will not be held responsible for any fines (eg parking, speeding, tolls etc) incurred by you whilst working for the Employer. If we receive the fine on your behalf, we may pay the fine and reserve the right to request to deduct the cost from any monies owing to you.

18.7 MOTOR VEHICLE SAFETY

Road crashes represent the most common cause of work-related fatalities in Australia.

To minimise the risk of injury and damage when operating motor vehicles:

- Ensure you have the appropriate licence to operate the vehicle
- Ensure you are reasonably fit to drive:
 - You are not adversely fatigued
 - You are not affected by drugs or alcohol
- Plan your trips and ensure you take adequate rest breaks
- Visually inspect your vehicle before operating to detect any faults

Check on your participant:

- Ensure the participant is seated
- Ensure the participant is wearing a seatbelt
- Consider if the participant's safety or your own safety is at risk

If feeling unfit to drive, suspect a fault in your vehicle or a participant is unsafe:

- Do not drive
- If already driving, safely park the vehicle
- Please contact your supervisor for next steps

18.8 ACCIDENT PROCEDURE

If you are involved in an accident you must follow the Emergency Procedure and notify management as soon as possible in accordance with the Reporting Injury or Incidents Policy.

18.9 LOSS

In the case of theft of one of the Employer's vehicles, the police and the Employer must be informed immediately. Full details of the contents of the vehicle must also be given. If any contents are stolen from the vehicle, the police and the Employer should be notified immediately.

Please note that only Employer property is insured by the Employer and you should make your own arrangements to cover your personal effects.

You must always secure the vehicle and its contents and turn on any alarm system that is fitted to the vehicle. The contents should be stored out of sight, preferably in the boot or rear. If a vehicle is stolen, we are required to prove to the insurance company that there has been no negligence and, therefore, we must hold you responsible in the event of such negligence.

18.10 PERMITTED USE

Subject to the restrictions already stipulated, Employer vehicles may only be used for authorised business, unless previous arrangements for private domestic or social use have been agreed in advance. They may not be used for the carriage of passengers for hire or reward, nor may they be used for any type of motoring sport, including racing, rallying or pace making, whether on the public road or on private land.

On periods of leave, you may be required to return the Employer vehicle to the Employer, unless otherwise agreed with management.

18.11 PERSONAL LIABILITY

In the event of an at fault accident whilst driving one of the Employer's vehicles or where any damage to an Employer vehicle is due to your negligence or lack of care, the Employer reserves the right to insist on you rectifying the damage at your own expense or paying the excess part of any claim.

Repeated instances may result in disciplinary action/and or the use of Employer vehicles being withdrawn.

18.12 CAR INSURANCE POLICY

You are required to update your car insurance policy in the Employer's records immediately upon renewal, regardless of whether your policy is renewed monthly, fortnightly, quarterly, or annually.

It is your responsibility to provide proof of your updated car insurance policy to the organisation. Failure to comply with this requirement will result in non-compliance, and the company will not be held accountable for any issues arising from the absence of updated insurance documentation.

In the event of an incident, such as damage caused to the worker's vehicle by a participant, the comprehensive insurance is intended to cover such situations. Heartland Support Services will not be held responsible for any damage to the worker's vehicle.

19 WORKPLACE IN GENERAL

19.1 INTRODUCTION

Along with the specific guidelines and procedures outlined throughout this Handbook, there are some simple day to day measures that can be adopted by management and employees alike to reduce the risks to health and safety in the workplace.

19.2 GENERAL

Management and employees alike must ensure:

- no plant, equipment or safety device (including PPE) is altered or removed from the workplace without express management authority
- all safety signs, policies and procedures are complied with in full
- illegal drugs are not brought into, or used, in the workplace and
- persons affected by alcohol or drugs are not permitted to access, or remain at, the workplace.

You must ensure that you wear and use any personal protective equipment and clothing issued for your protection at all appropriate times.

19.3 HOUSEKEEPING

Failure to ensure that the workplace is kept neat and tidy may create unnecessary hazards.

Management and employees alike are responsible for maintaining a neat and tidy workplace. This involves:

- ensuring emergency exits, thoroughfares and pedestrian access points are not obstructed
- ensuring aisles and work areas are clear and free from obstruction at all times so as not to cause additional hazards including slip, trip, or fall hazards
- placing rubbish in the bins provided and
- ensuring all work, communal areas and facilities are kept clean and tidy at all times.

19.4 HYGIENE

Any exposed cut or burn must be covered with a first-aid dressing.

If you are suffering from an infectious or contagious disease or illness such as rubella or hepatitis you must not enter the workplace without clearance from your own doctor.

Contact with any person suffering from an infectious or contagious disease must be reported before commencing work.

19.5 FITNESS FOR WORK

If you arrive for work and, in the Employer's opinion, you are not fit to work, the Employer reserves the right to exercise its duty of care, particularly where the Employer believes that you may not be able to undertake your duties in a safe manner or may pose a safety risk to others. We may send you away for the remainder of the day with or without pay and, dependent on the circumstances, you may be liable to disciplinary action.

You may be required to provide a certificate from your treating doctor stating your fitness for duties before being permitted to return to work.

20 DRUGS AND ALCOHOL

20.1 ILLICIT DRUGS AND ALCOHOL

The use of drugs or alcohol jeopardises a safe workplace. The Employer recognises alcohol and other drug dependencies as treatable conditions and encourages those persons who may be subject to such dependency to seek assistance from appropriate organisations or support groups.

The Employer has a zero-tolerance approach towards the presence of illicit drugs within the workplace. This includes the discovery of an employee with possession of an illicit substance, and any testing which results in a non-negative result within an employee's system above the detectable limit while at work.

Employees are not permitted to work while under the influence of alcohol and must conduct themselves responsibly at all times. For the purposes of this policy and due to the nature of your work, if at any time you are required to operate vehicles, heavy or otherwise, machinery or other high risk work, the blood alcohol content limit is zero (0.00%).

Alcohol may be consumed at some Employer events. Where this is the case, the Employer encourages responsible alcohol consumption and at no time should you be drunk or behave in a manner which is inappropriate.

Non-compliance with this policy and any associated procedure by employees may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.

20.2 PRESCRIBED/OVER-THE-COUNTER MEDICATION

Employees who are taking any prescribed/over-the-counter medication or drugs which may affect their ability to perform their work must notify management as soon as possible. You may be required to produce a medical certificate stating that you are fit for work or specifying any restrictions.

20.3 SCREENING

The Employer may require screening for alcohol and drugs. For employees, this may include pre-employment testing. Testing may be conducted based on reasonable suspicion or following an incident or accident. The Employer reserves the right to carry out random testing across all levels of employees.

The following provides examples of activities which may result in disciplinary procedures, up to and including termination of your employment with the Employer. If you:

- are removed from the workplace due to impairment or reasonable suspicion of impairment
- return a non-negative result following testing
- return a blood alcohol level of more than 0.00 or the equivalent in urine or breath samples
- refuse reasonable direction to undertake drug and alcohol screening or
- are in possession of illegal drugs for supply or consumption in the workplace or the Employer's vehicles.

This list is not exhaustive.

If you perform work on a client site which conducts regular or random drug and alcohol testing, you will be required to participate.

Where you are suspected of being affected by drugs or alcohol, you may be required to participate in appropriate testing. Non-negative readings at any time will result in disciplinary procedures up to and including termination of your employment or engagement with the Employer.

If you return a non-negative result, where necessary the Employer may direct you to attend further testing through an appropriate third-party provider for confirmation of the non-negative result. During this time, where you return a non-negative result, or refuse to participate in testing, you will be required to cease work immediately and leave the workplace. This time will be unpaid until such a time that you are fit to return to work. You will not be able to return to the workplace until you return a negative result. If you are required to leave the workplace, you will be required to report to management on your return or when you are no longer under the influence of drugs or alcohol, to discuss the incident.

20.4 NO SMOKING POLICY

Smoking (including e-cigarettes/vaping) on the premises or in Employer vehicles is not permitted. You are only permitted to smoke in designated areas and during your breaks.

If working on alternative sites, you must adhere to all relevant client site-specific policies and procedures regarding smoking.

21 TERMINATION OF EMPLOYMENT

21.1 RESIGNATIONS

All resignations must be provided in writing, stating the reason for resigning your post.

21.2 FAILURE TO PROVIDE REQUIRED NOTICE

If you terminate your employment without providing the required period of notice, you may not be entitled to your full termination pay. Depending on the terms of your employment contract and any other terms governing your employment relationship, an amount may be withheld from your termination pay that is equivalent to all or part of the notice not provided.

21.3 RETURN OF EMPLOYER PROPERTY

On the termination of your employment, you must return all Employer property which is in your possession or for which you have responsibility. Failure to return such items within seven days will result in the cost of the items being deducted from any monies outstanding to you.

All Employer property should be returned to management.

21.4 RETURN OF VEHICLES

On termination of your employment, you must return any Employer vehicle in your possession to our premises. Failure to return the vehicle will result in the cost of its recovery being deducted from any monies outstanding to you.

22 EMPLOYEE HANDBOOK ACKNOWLEDGEMENT FORM

I _____ (please print name) acknowledge that I received a copy of this Heartland Support Services Employee Handbook and that I have read and understood it.
